The Chinese ministers in Europe and the United States have been instructed to make another appeal, and endeavor to convince the powers that their government is being coerced into signing a treaty that practically relinquishes sovereignty over one of its most important provinces. Furincer, that Russia insists upon monopolies which would seriously affect the interests of other powers.

The last appeal will not cause the United States to take a more decided stand. Secretary Hay has told the Chinese that the United States will be displeased with any negotiations until the whole troubles.

Chinese that the United States was be displeased with any negotiations until the whole trouble is settled, and that any treaty made now would not be recognized. The United States would recognized. The United States would also insist upon the same commercial advantages in China that are enjoyed by other nations in Chinese territory.

The Chinese believe their case is hopeless, and will not resist unless assured protection by same of the other powers, which is not probable. Should Yang Yu refuse to sign the treaty Tuesday, Russia will probably proceed the same as if it were in force.

The Duchess pleaded for a year's respite. The Duke claimed that his health was too bad. Queen Alexandra strongly backed them, but the King put down his foot and insisted. The Duke and Duchess as resolutely refused, but the King forced their hands by giving out the announcement to the press that the tour had been definitely decided upon. This left them no option but to go. Queen Alexandra's indignation at the high-handed action of the King is shown by her sudden announced determination to go on a visit to Copenhagen, on which she started yesterday. This greatly enraged King Edward, who was powerless to stop her, but he declares his intention of traveling to Copenhagen himself in three weeks to bring her home.

Threatening letters have been received by Lieut. Gen. Kouropatkine, Minister of War; M. Mouravioff, Minister of Justice, and M. Sipiagnine, Minister of the Interior.

THE CZAR

Renewed demonstrations or great scale are expected tomorrow. It is reported that Prince Viazemsky has been disgraced for petitioning the Czar to consider the grievances of the students. Lagowski, the provincial official who last Friday attempted to assassinate Privy Councillor Pobedonostzeff, procurator general of the Holy Synod, is a disciple of Count Tolstoi, and he has asserted that the act was one of revenge for the excommunication of Tolstoi. According to a special dispatch to the Rossyia, the Governor-General of Kieff, Gen. Dragomiroff, has published a riot ordinance similar to that published by Gen. Klekgels, in St. Petersburg, and declaring that the military will be called out unless the ordinance is strictly obeyed.

The day passed quietly in St. Petersburg. Some forty thousand persons promenaded about along the Devsky Prospekt, particularly in front of the Cathedral of Our Lady of Kazan. The crowd dwindled to normal proportions when it became apparent that nothing would happen. The promenaders were for the greater part curiosity seekers.

The Czar presided at the council, which was convened at the Tsarskoe-Selo palace. It was decided not to abolish the law for drafting recalcitrant students into the army, but for the present to refrain from applying the law. It was also resolved to revise the university statute.

(NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.) LONDON, March 25. — The Daily Mail publishes the following, dated March 24, from ita St. Petersburg correspond-

"Yesterday (Sunday) 500 workmen from the Obuchower National Works paraded on the Noski Prospekt. On the way thither they demolished the State brandy booths. Eight hundred Cossacks, with men and a sanguinary encounter ensued. The number of killed and wounded is kept a plot against the life of the Czar. It appears that a group of students drew lots, and that the fatal choice fell to the son of a famous general. The boy told his father, and the latter told the Czar, imploring him to leave St. Petersburg." The Daily Express correspondent at St. Petersburg says: "In the last encounter at Narva Gate, one hundred workmen are reported to have been killed or wounded by the Cossacks."

Kapovich, the assassin of M. Bogoliepoff, Russian Minister of Public Instruction, has been sentenced to hard labor for life. He will be imprisoned in the Schulesettborg Fortress on an island in the Neva. Some reports say that an accomplice named Ivanoff was arrested with Ladowski.

the American Tin Plate Company will have representatives on the new board. An interesting feature of the consolidation, it is understood, is that all the venders have signed an agreement not to engage in the manufacture of tin within 1500 miles of Chicago within a period of fifteen years.

It is known that subscribers to the underwriting syndicate, so-called, received 100 shares each of preferred and common stock for every $10,000 cash paid in. The venders were asked to name their respective prices on a cash basis; the latter were offered the choice of receiving cash or preferred stock to an equal amount of the cash price, with a bonus of common stock to the same amount. It is understood that 75 per cent or more of the venders took stock.

KALAMA'S MINING BOOM.

TOWN ON GOLD LEDGES.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES,)

TACOMA, March 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A mining boom has been started at Kalama, county seat of Cowlit county, on the Columbia River, by the discovery of gold-bearing ledges in several parts of the town. The ledge in the Darnell mine, now being developed in the middle of town, has been known for over a year, though its size and richness were not certain until the completion of the recent development work. Within a few weeks three ledges have been uncovered, all showing the same general character of gold and copper-bearing ore.

Some citizens think Kalama will develop into another Butte, and many mining companies are being formed. One of the latest-found ledges was discovered, by sinking a shaft forty-five feet on a lot adjoining the courthouse. Three Kalama men own this claim, and have refused a good offer for a half-interest in it.

NEW YORK SUNDAY CONCERT. NEW YORK, March 24.—Twelve hur ired persons listened to David Bispha dred persons listened to David Bispham at a popular concert given at Carnegie Music Hall this afternoon. The recital was in the nature of an experiment, the management being desirous of finding out whether a New York audience could be attracted Sunday afternoon by an arrangement of popular prices! Those in charge of the concert profess to be more than satisfied with the result. David Bispham gave a number of baritone selections, the recital lasting for one and three-quarter hours. The selections were chiefly from Schubert and Schumann and American composers, like McDowell and Walter Damrosch.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) MONTEVIDEO (Uruguay,) March 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Latin merican Scientific Congress yester day discussed the proposition of the Brazilian delegate, Señor Da Vinna, relating o arbitration tribunals to set-tle disputes between South American countries.

Señor Guruchaga, a Chilean delegate, stated that arbitration is an American principle, not European, because no less than thirty-six American disputes have been so settled. The proposition was finally voted unanimously.

The Chilean government ordered Señor Guruchaga to take no part in the congress when the arbitration queshowever, arrived too late, as Señoi Guruchaga had already voted in favoi of a permanent tribunal.

series of chases which made the sport interesting in the extreme.

Dick L and Dan C did the best work, and would probably have qualified in the finals if there had been any. Dan C beat the Emperor in a close course, but two points dividing the two at the kill. Dick L had an easy time with George Dixon.

The shortage of hares left the finals to be ran off next Sunday, only four dogs having qualified for the second ties when the sport came to an abrupt ending.

ties when the sport came to an abrupt ending.

The attendance at the new park was far better than at any previous meet. Fully 2000 people were on the grounds during the day, and the wagering was lively. A new judge and slipper made their respective bows to the public. W. D. Murphy was nominated to make the decisiona. He proved himself an excellent judge, thoroughly fair and fully competent. The slipping of E. Street was snappy, and even dog owners could not complain.

In the run-down some promising animals were put out of the game. The first contest was between Dick L. Lyone's clever dog, and "Dick' Adam's Traveler. Both are clever animals on the course, and it was rather unfortunate that the drawings mated them so early in the game. Traveler did not have much opportunity to show what was in him, and failed to zcore, while Dick L made three at the kill.

George Dixon settled Gallagher, and Cleely Boy outfooted Allwood in a one-sided course. Dasiel best Walter by 5-0, and Emperor ran a bye with Lady Edith. In the running, however, Lady Edith did the scoring, but of course this did not prevent the Emperor from qualifying.

To the tune of 5-0, Admiral Dewey

this did not prevent the Emperor from qualifying.

To the tune of 5-4, Admiral Dewey lowered the colors of Miss Isabelia. Happy Dream was a good one for its owner, for in a long course the dreamer put Storm King out of business. Drown's Miss Ormonde had hard work to defeat Merry Maiden. Miss Rhea made Twist 'Em a twister by 8-3, and Queen Rosalind put 'American Beauty in the shade.

Resalind put American Beauty in the shade.

Last Cho'ce had nothing to do but win from Mollie H. as the score, 6-0, shows. St. Gertrude, Adams's clever bitch, did what was expected of her when she ran away from the Batchelor. Charles Gassogne's pup. Soltaire, ran against a smag when he tackled Happy Butte. Bottaire, though but a nine-months-old dog, showed more than the rodinary speed and agility. The course was a hot one, and was only won by Lyons's dog after a hot fight. The points, 10-7, indicate a swift hare and a brace of good travelers.

Old Kitty Scott did her best to win from Perseus, but the hare favored the dog. Score 5-4 made it hard work giving a decision. Doncaster sent "Dick" Adams's Merops up the spout and ended the first ties. As to be expected, it was nothing but Dick L. in a course where 5-5 was the score. Cleely Boy shd Weish's Daniel, found such a hot hare that 15-9 was the score in favor of the former at the kill.

The Emperor found his Waterloo when he struck Dan C. This was one of the longest and best courses of the day. Down the field the two buckled after the rabbit. They doubled, twisted and did everything to puzzle hare as well as judge for five minutes, before the kill. Each dog scored bountifully, and it is no disgrace to the Emperor to lose by 9-7.

Admiral Dewey settled Happy Dream's fate in 5-2, and Miss Ormonde took the kill from Miss Rhea in a short, sharp course, which was so close that some were tather inclined to dispute Murphy's decision. His score showing 4-3, told the tale of a hare which favored the winner.

This ended the game for the day, as there was no more quarry to pursue. On next Sunday Queen Rosalind must meet Last Cholee; St. Gertrude, Happy Butte; Perseus, Doncaster, for the finals of the first tile. Dick L. and Cleely Boy will open the second ties, and Dan C. will take on The Emperor to lose by 9-7.

You can say to them for me that I will match Al Neill with any one his weight—154 pounds. Toby Irwin will meet any one from 126 to 133. Young Peter Jackson will box any welterweight at 145 pounds. There is no necessity to dwell on the merits of these boys, as their performances are too well known to all who take any interest in the fighting game. I will be pleased to bring these boys to Los Angeles to box men in their class, and as my time is open now, any date in April will suit me. All three are in good condition and will only need about ten days to get ready after reaching there.

LOS ANGELES TEAM COMPLETE AND READY FOR THE FRAY.

Oaklanders Will Meet the Locals or Next Sunday-University Diamond Candidates Are Plentiful-Minor

The fact that the first ball game of the new State League series will be held on next Sunday, has made the fans "hike," to be slangy. Interest in the approaching sport is at fever point among the devotees of the game, inasmuch as players are arriving in bunches and are donning the new gray and maroon suits which will show on which side of the diamond the City of Angels is represented.

Yesterday Charles Swindells arrived from Stanford. Swindells will catch. Ed Householder also got in from Buffalo. Jones is scheduled to arrive today, and Reilly, the last of the new Los Angeles players, is billed to leave Denver tonight, and is due here Thursday morning. Friday the team will be complete, and the men will work together for the first time.

The Oakiand team is in practice at San Diego at present. It will come to Los Angeles next Sunday to open the series with the locals, and, though bets are being made to the contrary, promise to win the game—owing to the practice and team work, which counts against individual merit.

MINOR BALL GAMES.

MINOR BALL GAMES.

The second nine from the High School defeated the Horseshoes Saturday afternoon by a score of 6 to 5. The fact that E. Rowell made a home run in the last inning, with two men on bases, brought about victory from apparent defeat. The batteries were E. Salyet, C. Hogan and G. Peck for the school team; J. Horne and C. Gamble for the Horseshoes.

The Custer-street nine of young ball torsers defeated its rival, the Springstreet nine, in a game of ball Saturday afternoon. The score, 2 to 0, bespeaks a better game than was played.

The All-arounds stopped the All-abouts from making any tallies in the ninth inning of a minor ball game yesterday, and as a consequence won a victory by a score of 6 to 5.

The Myrtles were defeated by the Normal School juniors in a twelve-inning game of ball yesterday. Score 17 to 8.

will have full swing at the local thirdering versity.

Already one game has been played between picked teams from the college and academy, and errangements are now being made for a game with Throop Polytechnic Institute of Pasadena next Saturday afternoon.

There is much more material to draw from than last yeer, but the quality of some of it is unknown. For several years there have only been enough men in college who played the national game to fill the various positions, consequently as the men had no fear of losing their places, they were dilatory in practice. This year the competition will be so keen that a player who neglects practice will forfeit his position.

Not only are there many candidates at the West Los Angeles schools for every position, but the Medical and Dental colleges, which hitherto have taken no interest in college athletics, are asking for recognition, and will doubtless contribute some good material to the team.

looked as if this might give lise to serious difficulties, for the long fin and heavy ballast demend twenty feet of water, which it is impossible to get.

In this dilemma, Mr. Watson devised an ingenious plan. This involves a huge, water-tight box of sufficient buoyancy to carry the whole weight of the yacht. The box is being built around her under body in such a fashion that the whole of the hollow between the body of the yacht and the fin will be filled up. It is calculated that this will float six feet above the nowmal water line of the yacht, and that when the deep water is reached, it can be knocked away.

One result of the use of the contrivance will be that the under body will be hidden, as the yacht goes down the ways, and it will be impossible to get a complete photograph of her.

Natural Advantages.

The most successful people nowadays are those who make the best use of the natural advantages which lie about them on every hand. One of the chief natural advantages of Southern California is its perennial sunshine. The Climax Heater makes use of this natural supply of heat and everybody can get the most of it. One of these heaters is listed among The Times prizes.

When you sit down to write to a friend or to dash off something "on the spur of the moment," If you could have an elegant mahogany desk to serve your purpose. A desk of this sort, and a chair to match, from the stock of the Los Angeles Furniture Company, constitute one of the prizes offered by The Times.

Neither does the Wheeler & Wilson swing machine need superfluous encomiums. Everybody knows it to be one of the old-line standbys and that it has kept pace with the march of progresss. R. B. Moorehead, whose place of business is at No. 349 South Spring street, furnishes one of these Wheeler & Wilson machines, valued at $75, as a prize for The Times distribution.

AND THE MAN. Series under the direction of President Andrew S. Draper of the University of Illinois.) VI.-CLAUS SPRECKELS.

VI.—CLAUS SPRECKELS.

IFTY-TWO years ago a youth of 20 landed in this conuity after a steerage passage from Bremen. In Lamstedt, Hanover, where he was born, he had picked up a rudimentary education. He could not speak a word of English when he landed, and he was practically penniless when he reached Charleston, S. C., where he had determined to seek his fortune. He found employment in a grocery in Charleston at very small wages. He earnestly devoted himself to his duties and within a year and a half from the time he entered the store he was in a position to put over its door a sign bearing his own name—"Claus Spreckels, Grocer." For the former proprietors, wishing to sell, willingly accepted their hard-working clerk as purchaser. He continued to conduct a thriving business in Charleston until 1855, when he removed to New York City.

There he purchased a grocery and managed it with even greater success that he had attended to Charleston.

IN THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

Spreckels applied his great foresight and judgment to every branch of the sugar business. He invented new proceases, which reduced the time of making hard sugar from three weeks to twenty-four hours, and introduced into the American market for the first time the cube and crushed-sugars of today. Finally, Spreckels went to the Hawaiian Islands, and made himself the virtual owner of their product of sugar cane. That was in 1876, just after the completion of the first reciprocity treaty between King Kalakaua and the United States, admitting Hawaiian sugar free of duty. It costs a large sum of money to establish a sugar plantation in the Hawaiian Islands, because every foot of land must be irrigated. Spreckels looked over the field, and with all his wealth was almost dismayed at the outlook. It would require a vast fortune to buy out the planters, many of whom were Germans like himself end equally shrewd and ambitious. He found 10,000 acres of sand, however, low and considered practically worthless. He leased this barren waste from King Kalakaua for a song and went to work. There was plenty of refining it appealed to him. With the money obtained from the sale of the brewery he purchased an interest in a local refinery and under his man-agement it was soon doing a large and profitable business. In the course of time Spreckels bought out all the other shareholders and was the sole owner of the refinery. He put in improved machinery and directed the operations of the concern with so much success that the enterprise yielded him on enormous profit. Finally he parted with his interests at a high price. LAYING LARGE PLANS CARE-there entered into an exhaustive study of sugar and sugar beets, which has since made him the master of the business in the United States. He even became a workman again, toiling stoilidy for wages at Madgeburg, where during six weeks of close application he made himself familiar with every practical item of the industry. Becoming convinced from his observations that beet-sugar production would not pay at that time, he abandoned the idea, and in the face of strong opposition, built the great Callfornia sugar refinesy. He began with a wooden structure, very small at first, adapted strictly to the extent of the current operations, but within three years the building was enlarged four times, and at the end of four years an immense brick structure was put up, which, with a capacity to turn out 500 tons of sugar a day, still

But Mr. Spreckels, who, although well past 70, is as active and possesses the same love of work that characterized his earlier years, had other work to perform. THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY.

In the course of its duties as truthful and impartial chronicler western corner of the United States,
The Times has occasionally made reference to the peculiar community of upon one of the most picturesque points on the Pacific Coast, overlookto the peculiar at Polinic with a little hatchet, is points on the Pacific Coest, overlooking the bay of San Diego, at Point Loma. These people are known variously as Theosophists, or the "Universal Brotherhood." Their presiding genius is Mrs. Catherine Tingley, who appears to represent in their eyes a sort of combination of temporal and spiritual authority, with more then a little independent individuality thrown in. ms City, which was published in The rimes a few days ago. Speaking in regard to the reason why young people use led to frequent saloons, Mrs. Nation is reported to have said:

"You must admit that in the manority of cases, in the city, the attraction of the saloon to the young man is a social one; more especially the oung man away from home. Societies like the Y.M.C.A., and others of that nature, are hedged about by too many laws, and dues, and red tape, to uppeal to that class which it should be the object of all Christians to help. A young man—a stranger in a city—a roomer in some boarding or lodging-tonse—naturally seeks some social thrown in.

The Times is pained to learn, from heights of Point Loma, that this great religious daily is to a certain extent a publication non grata to the deni-sens of the Theosophical headquarters on the breesy heights overlooking San Diego Bay, or at least to some, of the great directing minds of the esoteric hatchery. We have been greatly pained to learn this, because we continuity strive to live in peace and good will toward all who ere striving to inaugurate an era of peace and good will upon the earth. It is true that The Times has referred to these people as "curios," but, theh, we must plead that in doing so we have only expressed the current opinion of the unregenerate, non-esoteric public toward a community whose members are addicted to such peculiar practices as wandering around the country in their nighties, carrying lighted candles, and scaring the living intelligence out of neighboring humans and animals. Possibly, if we could spare the time to sit at the feet of Mrs. Tingley—or even on a lounge alongside of her—we might be led to more, fully comprehend the mysterious heauties of the Theosophical theory, and to realize that nightgowns and tailow candles are but outward and visible signs of some great occult mystery hidden beneath.

However, to resume. Whatever mild fun we may have occasionally poked at the brethren of the mystic shrine at Point Loma, we have, at least, always taken it for granted that they represent the true and only Simon-pure-blown-in-the-bottle brand of Theosophy, such as it is. We are, therefore, not only surprised, but also deeply grieved to note that, in an interview published in a local contemporary, Col. Henry Steele Olcott, who claims to be the head of the Theosophical Society, plainly intimates, without any beating about the bush, that the Point Loma Theosophists are not true Theosophists at all, but merely a false offshoot, as it were, from the original Theosophical nevel orange tree. Col. Olcott, who is a man of standing in India, where he resides, and who does not work the Theosophical racket for revenue, goes on to say and who does not work the Theosophical racket for revenue, goes on to say some very unfavorable and unpleasant things about the Point Loma spook factory—things which en unregenerate and unbelieving non-esoteric newspaper would scarcely dare to say, but which coming from the putality beat which, coming from the putative head of the world's Theosophy, will certainly command some attention, if not respect.

In brief, Col. Olcott is reported as saying that the so-called Theosophists at Point Loma are no connection of his organization. He stigmatises them as a "Take organization composed of charlatans," and says they have never missed an opportunity to do the real Theosophists an injury. In regard to Catherine Tingley, Col. Olcott somewhat cruelly remarks: "She cleims to be an adept, and is said to have four husbands living, which indicates aptitude of other than the Theosophical variety."

Now we submit that there is some-he an adept, and is said to have rour husbands living, which indicates spitude of other than the Theosophical variety."

Now, we submit that there is somewhat less charity in this remark than might have been expected from the head of an organization which claims to be as far removed from human frailty as the Milky Way is from the earth; but then, as stated, we, of course, only view this sort of thing from the low material standpoint of an ordinary non-theosophical, non-esoteric daily newspaper.

Col. Olcott then goes on to intimate that Mrs. Tingley is very "tyrannical" and "finical" as well; that she has accumulated a large amount of money, and that she is careful to have all the property placed in her name. All this is very sad, and is very disquieting to those who had cherished a sneaking idea that there might be something in Theosophy superior to everyday life, and worthy of further investigation, whenever the time could be spared. Now, the seeker after truth will be first compelled to decide as to the relative reliability of the Tingley of Theosophy, as compared with the Olcott brand. To the inexperienced outsider, who has not found time to dive into the esoteric mysteries of Brahman lore, or who has not had sufficient patience to wade through the writings of the late Mms. Blavatsky, which are like a strange jumble of Kipling, Christian Science and the Arabian Nights, such a decision will be about as difficult to arrive at as the solution of one of the toughest problems in Euclid. To decide whether the Tingley or Olcott brand contains the most ammonia, or weighs the most ounces to the pound, will need a grade of esoteric analytical power of high order.

It is sad—very sad, and very disappointing.

NO BRAZILIAN CONSPIRACY.

NEW YORK, March 24.—M. De Asisz-Brasil, Minister to the United States from the republic of Brazil, attributes no significance whatever to the report coming from Rio de Janeiro of a conspiracy there against the government. The Minister has received no information of impending trouble, but, on the contrary, says the country is very quiet. He was unable to identify the Baron De Burgal, whom the dispatches say committed suicide.

He said, "I came down from heaven hot to do the believer, "A Christian is he who does the will of God. "This is what make the property of the property of the creeds and to exalt the word of God. This is in harmony with the purposes of God.

"There is a divine creed, given of God and approved by His spirit. This creed is the great truth as confessed by Peter that Jesus Christ was the Son of God and Savior of the world. This is the great source and center of Christian faith. This is the great truth upon which rests the church of Christ. This is a creed simple enough for a child and profound enough for a philosopher. It is universal in nature and adapted to all ages, ranks and conditions of men, to the depths of hesthenism and the attainments of civilisation. This is the creed that needs no revision. All the ages can accept it. It is perfect, being from the hand of God and designed of Him for the salvation of the world.

"This great creed with the divinely inspired and authoritative word of God, the Bible, are sufficient for the salvation of the world. Give men the liberty of the simple gospel of Christ, and they will rise into the fullness of Christian liberty and service. The church will grow in unity and power till the whole world will bow at the feet of the Master and glority the name of the Christ among men."

Savior of our race and to be our Judge."

The Holy Communion.

REV. GEORGE THOMAS DOWL-ING, in speaking on the above topic at Christ Episcopal Church yesterday morning, took for his text, "He that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body." "I want you to note," he said, "what our text does not say as well as what it does say. It does not say as well as what it does say. It does not say "He that eateth and drinketh being unworthy, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself." If it did, St. Paul himself, who wrote these words, could not have come to this table, for in this very epistle he declared, I am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. The thousands of saintly souls through all the ages who have knelt in holy communion would have been banished if such had been the reading; for the very words with which they came were, "We are not worthy to gather up the crumbs under Thy table." It was when the returning prodigal cried. I am no more worthy to be called thy son, that the father threw his arms about him and welcomed him home. No, the man who had better stay away."

The speaker then explained the meaning of the passage showing that in Corinth the Lord's Supper had degenerated into a drunken feast. Thus they ate and drank "unworthly, not discerning the Lord's Supper had degenerated into a drunken feast. Thus they ate and drank "unworthly, not discerning the Lord's Supper is a memorial; that is, it is a sign. Then the first qualification is knowledge. But how much knowledge? Knowledge enough to read the sign; to recognize the meaning of the rite.

Then again, it is a communion, so that the second qualification is a spiritual desire. But how much desire? Desire enough to need that communion. In prayer, we are talking to us; but in holy communion, the reading to God; in preaching God is talking to us; but in holy communion, the reading to God; in preaching God is talking to us; but in holy communion, the reading to God;

Comparative Wages Past and Present.

United States Prosperity in Germany.

That Ugatta Bridge Contract. A Webfoot Onion Patch. Cuban Fruit.

The American Agriculturist Year Book for 1901 furnishes the following furnes on labor and wages: Average daily wages of laborers in different countries in 1900:

sia Minorpain and Portugal

Representatives, from reports furnished by labor unions, a tabulated statement showing the increase in wages by percentages, in 59 trades, from 1896 to 1893. These increases run from 3 to 50 per cent. The report shows that in swery industry wages were increased between 1896 and 1899, while in twenty they were increased in each of the three years, 1897, 1898 and 1899, and in thirty-five they were increased in both of the two years, 1898 and 1899, and in thirty-five they were increased in both of the two years, 1898 and 1899. The report proves an unquestionably substantial increase in all wages from the reductions made necessary during the period from 1894 to 1897.

Going back to the comparison of present wages, with 1890-2. Using 100 as a basis the rate is as follows: 1891, 100.00; 1822, 180.30; 1899, 101.64; 1900, 103.43.

Thus, three facts are established: American laborers are getting the highest wages in the world; they are not only getting much better wages than from 1894 to 1897, but even higher wages than from 1894 to 1897, but even higher in the history of the country.

The same authority shows how much better the laborers are faring in the cost of living than ten years ago:

Here are the figures given for the prices of commodities in January, 1890, and July 1899:

change in this situation. Good harvests succeeded each other and brought a flow of money to America. Industries found an improved market for their products. These industries were promoted not only by protective legislation, but by improved processes and gradually emancipated themselves from foreign competition. The Americans then undertook the task of freeing themselves from foreign capital; in other words, of recisiming the industrial securities which were in European hands. They bought them back and then, sustained by their protective tariff against foreign competition, they began to dominate foreign markets. First, those of Central and South America, asia and Africa, and finally those of Europe.

"The figures are enormous. During the fiscal year ended January 30, 1900, the United States exported goods valued at $1.394.483.682, of which nearly all were of domestic origin. The item of manufactured goods amounted to 31.54 per cent., or nearly a full third of the whole exports. In 1890, they were only if per cent. of the total exports, showing the United States to be marching with gigantic strides toward conversion from an agricultural to an industrial mation."

"The value of exports of industrial products increased during the year 1900 27 per cent. over that of 1899, showing a progress in productive and selling capacity which constitutes an imminent danger to competing nations.

that the type-writing machine with which this article is written was made in America, that it stands on an American table in an office furnished with American deeks, blokcases and chairs, which cannot be made in Europe of equal quality for a similar price. Every one who understands the existing conditions must agree that the danger from American competition is real and serious and that Germany to hold its own must adopt American methods. "The foregoing statement brings out clearly the most important factor in the present period of prosperity. The United States has paid its debts abroad and is now able to export its surplus agricultural products and manufactured goods to an extent which is adding enormously to the national wealth. Exports of $1.394.186,271 mean a vast business in connection with the increase in values in the last few years.

"The opening up of new markets has made a demand temporarily in excess of the supply. As long as this continues, there will be prosperity. Under wise restriction of output and diligence in developing the markets the period of prosperity may be prolonged."

PERHAPS THIS WILL EXPLAIN.

THE UGANDA BRIDGE CONTRACT. A government return has just been issued giving the names of the British and American firms who tendered for the supply of certain bridges for the Uganda Railway, says the London Iron Monger, together with the amounts of the various tenders. The report contains no information as to the kind of bridges work which was required and bridges work which was required and tains no information as to the kind of bridge work which was required, and is equally silent upon the highly im-portant question whether or no the American and British firms con-cerned tendered for exactly the same kind of thing. It would be well if this point were clearly explained, for it will be within recollection that in the case of the Atbara bridge contract the American firms warely tendered for a case of the Atbara bridge contract the American firms merely tendered for a bridge, but the British had to tender for a bridge to comply with an elaborate specification and tests. The Americans, too, were not forced to erect their construction before shipping it, as was specified for the less favored British contractor. Assuming, however, that the conditions, etc., as regards tests were identical in the British and American specifications, there is little cause for wonder in the fact that the Uganda order went across the Atlantic. Below will be found particulars of the various tenders submitted.

Fanno Brothers of Portland, Or., have sold 8000 centals of onions of the 1900 crop at an average of $1.75 per cental, and are holding 2000 centals which they are marketing in 100-cental lots at $4 per cental so that their re-

All of these onlons were grown on a twenty-acre patch of beaver-dam land, which has been cultivated by the Fannos for many years, and has never failed to turn off from 400 to 600 centals to the acre.

The yield for 1899 was fully as large as that of 1900, but the crop was sold so much earlier that the top prices were missed.

David Regatto, a neighbor of the Fannos, last year sold his onions rought in 100 cental lots as high as $6.50 per cental. He has faith in the price reaching that figure again this season, for he is not selling at present prices. He has a smaller patch than the Fannos, but has marketed several hundred sacks already, and has 3000 sacks on hand. German Basket Industry.

Simon W. Hanauer, United States Vice-Consul at Frankfort-on-Main, Germany, writes as follows: "The wicker-basket industry in Ger-unprofitable prices of the goods in general, excepting articles of luxury and novelties, owing to excessive competition. The exporters also feel aggrieved on account of the high import duties levied on wickerware by many foreign countries, and they protest strongly against the arbitrary treatment on the part of the customs auhorities at the borders where the goodg are inspected, referring especially to Russian, French and Italian officials.

"The great advance in the price of the raw materials used in this branch which took place during the past year has been very detrimental. A new danger is threatening the workers in this line, namely, the making of wicker baskets by machinery, as a very satisfactory working machine has lately been put on the market by a manufacturer in Gera."

Cuban Fruit Raising.

The Columbia Cuba Improvement Company of Brooklyn, N. Y., secured 30,000 acres of fruit and building land on the island of Cuba for development. The land is near Cabonica Bay, between Nipe and Baracoa, at the eastern end on the north shore. The company has planned to devote 26,000 acres of the tract to fruit culture, 1000 acres to building lots, 2000 acres on the growing of fruit to know about the land we have secured.

"We shall reserve 5000 acres on the immediate water front for a plantation, and the balance will be divided into five and ten-acre fruit farms and city lots. We hope to establish there a great American city and colony under the name of 'Columbia.'

"We expect to build electric railroads, electric-light plants, ice and cold-storage plants and waterworks.

"The soil of the land is especially adapted to growing bananas, oranges, lemons, pineapples, figs, citrons, coffee, and all other tropical fruits, as well as all the principal yegetables grown in the United States. The company was organized under the laws of New Jersey with an authorized capital stock of $500,000."

The Watch Trade of Switzerland. Under date of February 12, Vice-Consul Leo J. Frankenthal writes from

"In the issue of American Trade for January 15 I notice a small item relating to the watch trade of Switzerland. The following notes may be of sufficient interest to be given a place in your valuable and sprightly journal:

"There has been a steady growth in the value of the total exports of watches and materials from Switzerland from the $16,000,000 exported in 1894 to the round $21,000,000 exported in 1894 to the round $21,000,000. exported in 1894 and the figures for 1900, which have not yet been given, will show another increase of at least $1,000,000. In round numbers Switzerland exports the watches and parts in this proportion: Gold watches and chronometers, $3.000,000; silver watches, $7.800,000; nickel watches, $4,000,000. finished works, $570,000, and materials and watch jewels, etc., $1,900,000.

"The average value of watches exported in 1899 per piece was as follows: Gold watches, $2.83, and metal watches, $1.65. The United States is the largest customer for finished works, taking in 1899 130,000 out of a total of $68,000 and paying on the average of $1.54 apiece.

"Switzerland exports now approximately $5,000,000 pounds of its celebrated Swiss cheese per year. The value of this dainty in 1899 was $7,750,000, or an average of a trifle less than 17 cents per pound. The United States uses about 10 per cent. of the total." "In the issue of American Trade for

SHIPPING, TONNAGE AND OUT-LOOK.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, March 19.—The prospect of an early opening of navigation on the Great Lakes and the preparations made by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics to continue its work, inaugurated in 1990, of gathering statistics of that compares lends interest to years just prepared by that bureau.

years just prepared by that bureau. The entire commercial development of the Great Lakes and of the territory contiguous thereto has been embraced within the century which has just closed, and the more interesting phases of it are presented by the record of the past ten years. Prior to that time the growth had been by leaps and bounds, interspersed with periods of depression, and during the five years following 1875, when rail competition first became active, there was a very appreciable failing off both in vessel tonnage and the volume of freight traffic. Taking up first the accessions to the tonnage engaged in the carrying trade on the inland seas, it may be noted that never prior to 1890 had the lake tonnage reached an aggregate of 1,000,000 tons. In that year the aggregate tonnage was 1,063,064 tons, and from that time until the present day an almost steady increase has been noted. Never since 1889 has the total dropped below the 1,000,000-ton mark, and with the single exception of 1894 there has been no year wherein the tonnage sum has not shown an increase over the preceding twelve months. The minimum yearly increase during the decade was 14,059 tons and the maximum 86,035 tons, the latter having been reported in 1897, while the year previous has a gain of $2,508 tons to its credit. The aggregate tonnage on the lakes at the close of the last fiscal year (June 30, 1900.) was 1,565,587 tons, a gain of 502,524 tons, or 32 per cent, during the interim covered by the comparison.

It may be of interest to digress for moment at this point to consider the It may be of interest to digress for a moment at this point to consider the relation of the lake fleet to the vessels of all kinds owned in the United States. In 1891, for instance, when the aggregate tonnage under the American flag was 4,684,759, the tonnage of the large craft amounted to 1,154,870 tons, or over 24 per cent. The aggregate tonnage for the nation increased very gradually prior to 1900, and thus in 1896 and 1897, when heavy additions were made to the complement of fresh-water carriers, the shipping of the inland seas represented as high as 29 per cent. of the whole. According to the latest riers, the shipping of the inland seas represented as high as 29 per cent. of the whole. According to the latest statistics compiled by the United States Commissioner of Navigation, the aggregate burden of American vessels is 5,164,839 tons, and the Great Lakes, with 1,565,587 tons, thus embraces 30 per cent. Finally it may be noted, for purposes of comparison, that the tonnage of vessels now owned on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts of the United States is 2,727,802 tons, and thus exceeds by 74 per cent. the tonnage on the Great Lakes.

Taking up the subject of iron and steel vessels exclusively, the Great Lakes make a much more favorable showing. Of the 1,522,831 tons of iron and steel tonnage in the United States, inclusive of Hawaii, there are on the inland seas 687,768 tons, or 43 per cent. The Atlantic and Gulf coasts have 762,821 tons, or less than 11 per cent, in excess of the lake fleet, as compared with an excess of 74 per cent, when craft of all kinds are taken into consideration. The true significance of the figures indicative of the relative strength of shipping on the Great Lakes and Atlantic and Gulf coasts is only gained, however, when a comparison of the number of iron and steel vessels in each locality is presented in conjunction with the statements of tonnage.

Of the aggregate of 1225 iron and steel vessels in each locality is presented in conjunction with the statements of tonnage.

Of the aggregate of 1225 iron and steel vessels flying the American flag, the Great Lakes have but 322, as compared with 763 on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts. In other words, the inland waterway, with but 26 per cent. of the metal vessels in the American fleet, has 43 per cent. of the tonnage, and whereas the iron and steel fleet owned on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts numerically exceeds that on the lakes by 137 per cent., in tonnage the excess is, as has been stated, less than 11 per cent. To carry this comparison further, it may be of interest to consider the apportionment of the larger iron and steel vessels—those of 1000 tons each and over—now operated under the American flag. Of this class of tonnage, out of a total in the United States and Hawaii of 778 vessels of 1,710,136 tons, there are to be found on the Great Lakes 424 vessels of 911,533 tons. It will thus be seen that the lakes have 54 per cent. of the whole fleet and 63 per cent. of the tonnage.

In numerical strength the lake fleet exceeds that of the Atlantic Coast and Gulf of Mexico by 151 vessels, or 55 per cent., and in tonnage by 271,381 tons, or 42 per cent.

Mr. Kraus, the Argentine engineer who is carrying out the survey for a line from San Juan to Patquia, estimates that the line of 348 kilometers will cost about $5,000,000 to construct, which is about $11,000 per kilometer.

The value of the exports of manufacture from this country in 1900 amounted to $441,447,000, against $330,-788,000 in the previous year; exports of iron, steel, metals and machinery amounted in value to $122,632,000, against $105,600,000 in 1899, and $82,-771,000 in 1898.

Tin-lined and lead-lined wroughtiron pipe is now being made by pouring the melted tin or lead into the iron pipe. It is said that the result is a union of the two metals that is not broken apart, even when the pipe is bent. Fittings of the same sort are also prepared.

Some German iron firms already owe their bankers more than their share capital, owing to the present crisis in the trade. From the Cologne Gazette we learn that the balonce sheets issued within the fortnight, especially by the rolling mills, show a deplorable condition of affairs.

A company is reported as incorporated in Ohio, with a capital stock of $1,000,000, for the purpose of building a linesof railway from Adena, O., to Martin's Ferry, tapping extensive coal territory. The Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad is said to be behind the new company. W. B. Whiting, J. P. Stark and W. C. Boyle, Cleveland, O., are incorporators.

Passalc, N. J., is to have a new woolen mill. A concern now located in Gera, Germany, it is said, has secured a site on the outskirts of the city, and the work of erecting suitable buildings will be commenced as soon as the weather permits. The concern is an important one, and stands especially well with its workingmen, as it carries an insurance for the aged end disabled of the employés, after they have been in its service for five years or more.

Returns of the iron furnaces of the United States to the Iron Age show that on March 1; there were 248 furnaces in blast, as against 245 February 1, and 293 March 1, 1900. The increase in total weekly capacity during February was 14,641 tons. The present weekly output is almost exactly the same as it was a year ago. It is 5115 tons below the maximum of the recent "hoom"—298,014 tons, reached in February, 1900—but is 77,595 tons above the minimum of last year's reaction—215, 304 tons, reached in November.

"hoom"—298,014 tons, reached in February, 1900—but is 77,595 tons above the minimum of last year's reaction—215,304 tons, reached in November.

The following in regard to sheep growing in Russia is from the bulletin of the National Wool Growers' Association for March: "It is estimated that in European Russia about 250,000,000 to 271,000,000 pounds of unwashed and scoured wool are produced, of which about 90,000,000 to 198,000,000 to 198,000,000 to 198,000,000 pounds is of merino wool, the bulk of which is manufactured in Russia. principally in Poland, where are situated most of the woolen manufactories. The balance, say 163,000,000 pounds, is coarse wool, and is largely exported to the United States after being washed at the large washeries in Cherson, Rostof-on-Don, etc."

The Allard syndicate of Paris, France, secured the contract for park work at Montevideo, at their price, which was 39,918,336. It is feared that no American bids will be furnished for the improvements needed by the port of Rosario. Argentha, particulars of which may be obtained at the Argentine legation at Washington. As merchants identified with the River Pleta trade say, it may be that the importance of such works from a commercial viewpoint may not be thoroughly appreciated by American engineering and contracting firms, but hundreds of thousands of dollars will be mide in each of these undertakings, and the consumption of finished material will be large.

An agent for an export firm in New York, who was sent to Manila nearly seven months ago, says that government undertakings alone will consume hundreds of tons of finished material during the balance of this year. These contracts are given to the lowest bidders, provided that the concern bidding can prove to the authorities that they are responsible. There are under project steam and electrical railway undertaking plants. Manila merchants, many of whom are Chinese, are substituting American goods for those that have heretofore been brought from Europe. The utilization of sawdust is the purpose of a machine recently patented in Canada and noted by United States Consul-General John L. Bittinger, of Montreal, who does not give the name of the inventor. The sawdust is distilled, and the capacity of tha machine is about 2000 pounds of wet sawdust per hour; with dry sawdust this capacity is more than doubled. In addition to the gases generated, 1000 pounds of sawdust is said to produce the following: "Char," 160 pounds; acids, 180 pounds; water, 248 pounds; tar, 162 pounds. The gases, of which no record was kept as to volume, are claimed to be superior to coal gas for heating and illuminating; but they are unpleasantly pungent without going through a purifier. The inventor is seeking capital, $100,000 being required to properly equip the plant. In Europe some twenty different establishments make oxalib acid out of sawdust; dried yellow and white pine are said to contain 94 per cent of oxalic acid, and oak has 83 per cent.

A London paper, calling attention to the fact that during the past year over 6000 electric tramway cars were manufactured in America, says: "The magnitude of the business will be better understood by recalling the fact that there are probably not more than 6000 tramway cars of all kinds in use in the United Kingdom today. Unfortunately, from the standpoint of British workmen, our manufacturers are not yet able, says the Sheffleld Telegraph, to supply the increasing demand for cars, and from all parts of the country complaints come of great delay in filling orders. One large corporation was recently obliged to delay the opening of its electric tramways several months because cars could not be got." As to the iron trade, it says: "Short time is ruling in the steel and iron trades throughout the North and Midlands in consequence of the falling-off in orders. A dozen forge works have closed down in the Midlands, and at many others the number of hands is considerably reduced. To ameliorate these conditions cheaper raw material—coal and pig iron—is regarded as imperative. With prices reduced to the 1896-7 level it is claimed that American manufacturers would be unable to compete with the British market."

the British market."

Extensive consignments of railway material have just been taken to Yokohama, Japan, by the two steamers that recently sailed. The steamer Glengarry, among other things, had on board $30,000 worth of railroad spikes, $17,000 worth of locomotive parts, $11,000 of car material, $15,000 of brains goods. The Indrani's heaviest shipments consisted of $34,000 of bridge material, $35,000 of steel rails, $14,000 of railroad spikes, $14,000 of manufactured iron and $10,000 of electrical material. Of course, all these shipments are the results of contracts closed as long ago as three months. Merchants identified with Japanese trade claim that there are equally as large shipments pending, which manufacturers are at the moment turning out. The volume of trade arriving from Japan at the moment, while not large in any one direction, is said to be steady and improving as the senson advances. From China several concerns have received excellent reports of late, as to the early revival of trade, and, as one of these firms stated, by the middle of April next it is believed that some substantial orders will be arriving in this market from Shanghal. There is a movement in that city at present to increase large flour mills, and as the machinery, etc., now in use is mostly from the United States, a repetition of the orders is expected.

AGAINST AH LAM.

OS ANGELES CELESTALS ARE VERY MUCH EXERCISED.

They Accuse One of Their Number of Disrespect to the Dead Because He Levied an Attachment on His Uncle's

Chinatown is up in arms. It is stirred to its depths, and is heaping maledictions upon the head of Ah Lam, a "Je Cli" man. Incidentally Lam, a "Je Cli" man. Incidentally the Chinese mission comes in for its share, and the end is not yet.

Ah Lam is guilty of disrespect to the dead, according to Chinese judgment. He has violated a tenet as sacred to the followers of Confucius as the commandments, singly or collectively, to the Christian.

Last Monday Sam Gee died. Sam kept a store on Commercial street, and was honored among the Chinese. Ah Lam was his nephew. No sooner did Ah Lam hear of his uncle's death than Lam was his nephew. No sooner did Ah Lam hear of his uncle's death than he secured a writ of attachment and took possession of the dead man's effects, even while the body was lying in a rear room. Therein lies the crime. When Chinatown heard of the conduct of Ah Lam it could scarcely believe its ears. No, it could not be. It was impossible. But the news was confirmed. Then Mongolians gathered in little groups about the street corners of Chinatown. Their deportment was excited, their words were sizsling. Lucky it was for Ah Lam that he did not put in an appearance.

Ah Lam is a "Je Cli" man. For a number of years he has been a prominent member of the little mission that fronts on the Plaza. He stood in good repute with his kind, and his business, that of contract labor, was flourishing. But now this is all changed. He is held in fine contempt and there is a boycots upon his business.

"Joss will never smile upon you

"Joss will never smile upon you again," they whisper to Ah Lam now when they meet him, "nor even will the God of the white devile. You will never again enjoy the friendship of all Chinatown, for you have shown disrespect toward the dead. For that there is no atonement—only unishment is no atonement—only punishment. You will never cross the Tse and enter the Garden of the Gods, but will be condemned to forever wander in sight of its glories."

The Lion of Lucerne.

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] There appeared in last night's Express an interview with a Mrs. Garden McLeod, an artist, just returned from a continental tour, in which interview she is reported to have described "The Lion of Lucerne" as "kneeling over a spring and being the most wonderful 'freak of nature' she had ever seen." If the artist ever saw the iton, she must have noticed that he is not kneeling nor is he a 'freak of nature'. [Besides, lions don't kneel.—Ed.] A moment's glance at the sculpture would have revealed beneath it the chiseled names of the officers of the Swiss Guard, whose devotion to Louis XVI is commemorated by Thorswalden in his celebrated work. Nature is responsible formany "freaks," and she might have carved on the soft rock face of Lucerne something remotely resembling the king of beasts; it is asking too much of her to hold her responsible for the carving in good, plain text of the names of the heroic guard of much of her to hold her responsible for the carving in good, plain text of the names of the heroic guard of the French King.

A traveled artist might, perhaps, be excused for making such a blunder, but there can be no excuse for a reporter, who would pen an article displaying such ignorance of a sculpture as universally known as the Lion of Lucerne.

Wonderful Work of the American Tract Society During Its Existence. Meeting at Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 24.-The Meeting at Washington.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)

WASHINGTON, Manch 24.—The Washington annual meeting of the American Tract Society was held today in the Gunton-Temple Memorial Church, Rev. M. S. Fiske, pastor, presiding. The Rev. Judson Swift, field secretary of New York, presented a brief report of the society's work.
Gen. O. O. Howard delivered an earnest address, setting forth the object and needs of the society. He gave from his own experience a somewhat detailed account of the tract society's work in the army, emphasizing how much good it accomplished during the recent Spanish war. He also told of what was being done in our Island possessions. Gen. Howard is the society's president, and is deeply interested in its work.

The secretary's report stated that the society was organized "to diffuse a knowledge of Christ as the Redeemer of sinners." In this work, it has issued between thirteen and fourteen million distinct publications at home and in the foreign field. The society, through its system of colportage, strives to carry the gospel message to the millions that are unreached by the churches. During fifty-nine years of colportage, over 15,000,000 family visits have been made, and nearly 10,000 families have been prayed with, or spoken to on the subject of personal religion, while 16,000,000 pages of Christian reading have been left in their homes.

The society has been able to publish the gospel truth in 159 languages or dialects, and has aided the denominational mission in their work at home and abroad. During the year between four and five million pages of Christian literature in the Spanish language have been distributed in our island possessions, and 1,000,000 pages of selected reading heve been distributed to the army and navy.

An effort is being made in Utah to place tracts in every Mormon home by means of colporteur wagons and colporteurs, this reaching the children and youth. New publications have been issued during the year in English, Spanish, Polish and Germ

CHURCH IMPROVEMENTS.

The East Side Christian Church has been for some time without a pastor, but recently Elder T. D. Garvin has taken up the work, and has had several additions to the membership. The church is being generally repaired, walls tinted, new carpets laid, etc.

Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church is being improved by the addition of a Sunday-school and Epworth League room, and a kitichen, fitted with sink, gas range, etc. The estimated cost of the improvement is $800.

A sacred concert was given by the choir of the Congregational Church on Daly street last evening. This church has just issued a new directory, and a growth of 147 members under Rev. Chester P. Dorland's pastorate.

The funeral of Mr. Ihms was held at the family residence, corner of Downey and Avenue 19. yesterday aftesnoon. Rev. T. D. Garvin conducted the services. The interment was at Rosedale.

At the W.C.T.U. mothers' meeting last Tuesday Mrs. Ann Chapman and Mrs. Heater T. Griffith gave addresses.

The Arroyo Seco Union, W.C.T.U., has started a contest for members, which is becoming quite interesting, The losing side will provide a supper for the victors.

The Child-study Circle of Arroyo school and Swain-street school met at the latter place last Thursday afternoon, and listened to an address by Mrs. Washburn on the "Child's Savings Bank." Mrs. Parker sang. Refreshments were served. This circle will meet monthly hereafter.

The usual run of spring picnics has begun at East Side Park. The new extention of the Downey-avenue line to the park is proving a great convenience, and yesterday's travel indicated its popularity.

POOR LIGHTING SERVICE.

There is a very bitter feeling here against the Santa Ana Electric Lighting Company (the Orange county branch of the Edison company) on account of the inferior service the business men are getting. A few nights ago an entertainment was given in the big hall, and when it was half over every light went out, leaving a large audience in darkness. Every electric light in the business houses and residences went out, and were not turned on during the remainder of the evening. Last Thursday night at 7 o'clock every light went out again and the town was dark all night, notwithstanding that all contracts call for a twenty-four-hour service. Last night at 7 o'clock the whole town was again in darkness, and there was not an electric light in town until 8 o'clock this morning, though Saturday night is the busiest evening of the week.

Every business man in town is dissatisfied with the service, and there is talk of trying to contract to have gas piped here from the Puente oil wells, where there are thousands of cubic feet of high-grade gas escaping every day in the year.

HIGH TIDE'S CURIOUS WORK. BANTA MONICA. March 24.—[Regular Correspondence.] The heavy seas at high tide today washed away more of the beach than has been removed before in several years. MORE LIQUOR TALK.

The liquor question now before the city Trustees is much discussed. The petition asking the board to call an election to get a popular expression of the plan of having saloons in town for the coming year must of necessity be acted on at an early date. The license year will expire April 30, and if any change is to be made in the present ordinance, it will need to be effective on May i.

The legal publication and other formalities in connection with a new ordinance consume a good deal of time, so that if the ordinance be amended it will be important that it be adopted early in April.

It is urged that if the election which has been petitioned for, be called the proposition be put before the voters so they may have a fair knowledge of what they are acting on. It is pointed out that to present the question as "Saloons, Yes. Saloons, No," or "Shall the City Trustees license the reteil liquor business? Yes or No," would not be sufficiently definite.

A plan which appears to find favor among those who desire that retail liquor houses other than restaurants be established, provides for drinking places without bars. It is proposed to have each such establishment quartered in one large room or apartment with no side rooms or "family" or other side or rear entrances.

AVALON, March 24.—[Regular Correspondence.] "There'll be a fine flock of guils following the Hermosa today," remarked an old boatman yesterday as the smoke of the steamer loomed up in the distance. "Why so?" inquired His Innocence, who stood near by.
"Why? Because it's always so in rough weather. Don't you see the whitecaps running and tumbling over each other out there? That means lots of feed for the birds;" the boatman replied. With a thoughtful shake of his head His Innocence again came up smiling with, "But I don't see any connection between rough weather and abundant feed for the birds;"
"Oh, you don't? Well, just wait till the passengers are landed and ask them how much of the breakfast they succeeded in landing with them!"

Re Best the Band.

A colored minister of the gospel pitted himself against a brass band in a contest of noise-making at Central Park yesterday, and was pronounced the winner. Since band concerts have superseded the so-called oratory of the wind-jammers who had become a nuisance at that park, the place is filled with people almost every day, and this devout colored man saw an opportunity vesterday to preach the word, so he stationed himself on the Oilve-street side of the park and began exhorting. About that time the band started up and its music would have drowped the volce of an ordinary man, but this parson was equipped with a forhorn, and for twenty minutes he yelled out his sermon in a tone which could be heard two blocks away. the State Awheei.

Deing the State Awheei.

A party of eight will leave the city this morning for a two weeks' tour of this part of the State awheel. The party will consist of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Padgett, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Baird and two sons, Miss Ella Story, a sister of Mrs. Baird, and J. E. Scott. All reside near Rochester, N. Y., and this is their second winter in this part of the State. They will visit Riverside, San Bernardino, and intermediate points, and may go as far south as San Diego. Their only equipment will be their bicycles, for they will ship their baggage ahead of them. Later it is their intention to make a cycletrip through Yosemite Valley, and before returning home they will visit Yellowstone Park, although they will not attempt to ride from California on their wheels.

Hinduism has a no considerable following in Los Angeles, and the believers in the faith are looking forward to the arrival of the new leader with great expectations.

The Cause Nominal Damage.

Two small fires yesterday resuited the hall in search of the toilet-room. It was dark and he stumbled and fell over the bannister around the stainway. He was precipitated from the third to the second floor. The accident occurred about 3:30 o'clock in the morning.

James Cramer, a soldier, was knocked down and run over by a buggy on South Spring street late yesterday afternoon. One of his ribs was fractured. He was treated at the Receiving Hospital. While crossing Spring street between First and Second streets he dodged a bicyclist and steeped in front of the buggy, the shaft of which struck him. The horse stepped on him and two wheels passed over his body.

Orlo Feris, an eight-year-old youth, who lives at No. 1215 East Twelfth street, was rendered unconscious by a fall from his bicycle on Locust street shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

He and his brother Frank, who is a few years older, were coasting down a hill on their bicycles. They were going at a rapid rate, when the wheels ran into a rut and both boys were thrown to the ground. Frank was uninjured, but Orlo struck heavily on his right side and sild about ten feet. His face was considerably bruised, and he was unconscious when taken to the Receiving Hospital. He revived and was later taken home by his sister.

F. Brown was treated at the Receiving Hospital. early yesterday morning for a cut on his lower lip. He said he was struck on the mouth by some person whom he did not know. One stitch mended his injury.

Conference of New York Republi

Leaders Meets at Senator Platt's Quarters—No Police Legislation.

IBY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.1

NEW YORK, March 24.—Leading Republican politicians of this city and State met in Senator Platt's rooms at the Fifth-avenue Hotel this Afternoon, and were in conference for several hours. As a result of the conference, it was decided to ettempt no police legislation this session.

The conference adjourned subject to the call of Senator Platt whenever, in his judgment, police legislation seems necessary. All who were talked with say that the conference was harmonious.

say that the conference was harmonious.

Long before the time for the conference to be called, the corridors of the Fifth-avenue Hotel were filled with State leaders, and members of the Legislature. Every one of the leaders summoned to the conference attended. There was a large sprinkling of local politicians and many of the up-State politicians, who were attracted to the place of conference, but who were not summoned as participants.

Though no one would say it directly, all who attended the conference admitted that it had come to the views of Gov. Odell, and it was considered that he had virtually triumphed, and that the organization was with him.
